

out of the blue: an introduction to acquired haemophilia

DEAR DOCTOR,

Novo Nordisk Global is proud to present a series of four webinars that are designed to increase awareness of acquired haemophilia (AH) and provide clinical guidance for diagnosis and management of this rare disease.

Most people with AH suddenly experience symptoms of bleeding or bruising with no warning. This disease appears out of the blue. Fortunately, with prompt recognition and treatment, AH can be controlled and bleeding risk minimised or eliminated.

These online sessions are scheduled throughout 2019:

It appears out of the blue: Challenges in the recognition and diagnosis of acquired haemophilia—Prof. Andreas Tiede

It's not easy being blue: Challenges and opportunities in laboratory diagnostics of acquired haemophilia—Dr. Craig Kessler

A patient diagnosed only once in a blue moon: Treatment strategies for a rare disease—Dr. Jerry Teitel

Blueprint for success: A summary of key learnings with registry data on acquired haemophilia—Prof. Paul Knoebl

a rare and unexpected bleeding disorder

a webinar series focusing on referral and diagnosis, laboratory diagnostics, treatment strategies and need for registries

WHAT SESSIONS CAN I ATTEND?

You are welcome to attend any or all the sessions, however, registration is required. Additionally, each event listed above will include two (2) identical sessions and you are able to join at the most convenient time for you.

You will only be required to register once for all events. Reminders communications will be provided prior to each event

Should you not be able to attend an individual session, each event will be recorded and available to view online.
